RECOMMENDED ANNEX D
to
DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE 3/4
TERMS OF REFERENCE
for
GUIDED MISSILE INTELLIGENCE COMMITTEE (GMIC)

1. The mission of the Guided Missile Intelligence Committee (GMIC) is to strengthen the community approach to problems in the field of guided missile intelligence and to give added impetus to individual efforts. To this end, the responsibilities of the GMIC include the following:

a. Providing a mechanism for the fullest exchange of national guided missile information for intelligence purposes.

b. Conducting evaluation of significant guided missile intelligence information and producing appropriate reports to the IAC.

c. Developing over-all guided missile intelligence objectives and reviewing the scope of the collection effort to meet those objectives.

d. Coordinating the determination of guided missile intelligence collection requirements and related activities.

e. Providing a mechanism for coordinating the guided missile intelligence production efforts of the member agencies and, in appropriate cases, concurring in the working papers produced by member agencies.

f. Preparing coordinated drafts of national estimates on guided missile intelligence and producing appropriate contributions in this field of intelligence for other national intelligence estimates as requested.

g. Determining the deficiencies in guided missile intelligence; taking appropriate remedial action; and recommending to the IAC remedial action beyond the cognizance or competence of the Committee.

h. Providing staff support, when required by the IAC, with respect to international conferences and planning in guided missile intelligence.

(Copy to be furnished)

2. Each IAC agency and the National Security Agency shall furnish one representative member and an alternate member to OMIC. The CIA member shall act as Chairman. Other non-IAC agencies may furnish observers and/or advisors to the OMIC on OMIC request.

1/ Subject to NSA acceptance of an IAC invitation.
